

CONNALLY CALLS FOR NEW "BIG 3" MEETING

URGE NATION TO EAT LESS WHEAT, FATS

Plea by Truman Committee Asks for U. S. Cooperation for 120 Days

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 12.—The best fed nation in the world heard a plea today to cut its food consumption by 40 per cent in wheat and 20 per cent in fats to help save a half-billion famine victims overseas.

The appeal of President Truman's famine emergency committee said such a volunteer effort was needed for the next 120 days to tide the hungry abroad over "a terrible four months until the next harvest."

The committee offered almost two-dozen suggestions on how the public could cooperate in the food-conservation campaign. They ranged from a 10 per cent cut in the weight of bakers' bread to topless sandwiches and open-faced pies.

The smaller bread loaf suggestion prompted Department of Agriculture officials to say that no lower price will result to consumers. They explained that the saving of ingredients per loaf will be small individually, and that the program will involve a definite reduction in the total output of bakeries.

The appeal to respond to "a great human cry" for salvation was issued by the famine committee last night. "The world faces a gigantic emergency of famine among 500,000,000 people due to war exhaustion of agriculture and drought," the statement said.

A short time earlier, the Agriculture department reported prospects continue to point to a near-record crop of winter wheat in this country, with a yield of 751,000,000 bushels indicated. The record was 759,000,000.

300 Lose Jobs As Ohio Air Base Slashes Staff

COLUMBUS, March 12.—The 836 civilian employees of Lockbourne army air base knew where they stood regarding jobs today. About 300 were out of work, 300 remaining and the rest going to Wilmington, O., where the army's all weather flying center is being relocated.

The workers staying at Lockbourne were on pay rolls of the first air force, whose 477th composite group is being transferred here, and the employees going to the Clinton county airport at Wilmington remain on the pay rolls of the air technical service command.

Col. Benjamin O. Davis, Jr., commander of the composite group, said last night the all weather flying center would like to take more employees with it but the housing facilities in Wilmington were insufficient to meet even present demands.

Salem Mother Is Among Three Granted Paroles

The Ohio Pardon and Parole commission today announced that paroles have been granted to the following now in state institutions: Mrs. Anna Sommer Barnard of Salem, convicted of neglect to provide for minor children.

Charles Hushower, auto theft, Frank Fishbey, auto theft, both from Mahoning county.

Army Air Forces Streamlined Into 3 Combat Units

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The Army Air Forces were streamlined today into three major combat commands by Gen. Carl Spaatz, who declared the atomic bomb made it "almost" certain any future war would begin with air action.

The new chief of the nation's air arm announced the following combat groupings for the postwar setup:

The Strategic Air command, composed of long range striking forces, the Air Force Defense command, responsible for the aerial protection of the continental United States, and the Tactical Air command, which will cooperate with surface forces.

These will be supplemented by five supporting commands, and by Air National Guard and Air Reserve forces. A revised "air university" system of schooling already has been put into effect.

Spaatz asserted in a statement that "the best insurance against unannounced aerial attack is an adequate, alert air force-in-being."

PATROL NABS TWO IN STOLEN AUTO

Find Machine Guns In Car Driven By Prison Escapees

State patrolmen apprehended two 17-year-old youths, escapees from the George Junior Republic reformatory, Grove City, Pa., here yesterday afternoon after they had stolen six automobiles in three states and two machine guns from an Akron store.

The boys, one from Mellboro, Pa., and the other from Johnstown, Pa., fled from the school last Monday, stole cars in Wheeling, W. Va., and Pennsylvania before abandoning a stolen car in Lodi earlier yesterday, where they stole another and headed east.

At Maple's service station at Ellsworth, the two stopped and ordered 13 gallons of gasoline. Then they requested oil and when the attendant went inside the pair drove away.

State patrolmen, on the lookout for the car, spotted it on Route 62, near Westville, and gave chase into Salem, where the pair were caught and loaded in the city jail. They were turned over to Akron police, Corp. Edward Mallory said.

The machine guns were taken from a display window in an Akron store, which the youths had broken into. The guns, unloaded, were in the car when the two were arrested.

Sugar Scarcity To Continue Into '47

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Sugar will remain scarce the rest of this year and perhaps into 1947, says the Agriculture department.

It stressed this despite some prospective ration increases announced by the OPA yesterday. These apply to such users as bakers and restaurants and not to households.

Here's the sugar ration situation: Home canning—sugar stamp nine in ration book four and in new sugar books became valid yesterday for five pounds. OPA expects to validate another home canning coupon in June or July for perhaps another five pounds.

Regular household allotment—sugar stamp 39 in book four is good for five pounds through April. OPA says it has no plans at this time to hike the current ration—five pounds a person every four months.

Industrial—such users as bakers, pharmaceutical producers and canners of fruits and vegetables will get a 10 per cent increase for the April-June quarter.

LEWIS MEETS OPERATORS ON MINE CONTRACT

UMW Chieftain To Present Wage Demands At Conference

(By Associated Press)

John L. Lewis met with the nation's soft coal operators today in Washington to present his wage increase demands for 400,000 United Mine Workers.

The UMW chief presented his notice of intention to terminate the present agreement April 1 but did not disclose his demands immediately.

He nominated Ezra Van Horn, Cleveland, chairman of the bituminous operators negotiating committee, to be permanent chairman of the national bituminous wage conference.

Charles O'Neill, the operators' chairman in the actual negotiations, nominated UMW Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy for conference secretary. O'Neill also nominated several other UMW officials for conference posts.

Meets Policy Committee

Before the conference opened, Lewis held a last minute session with the union's policy committee to go over the miners' demands.

The operators, although in the dark as to just what wage and other demands Lewis was ready to submit, were quite sure he would demand a shorter work week, more pay to make up the loss in take-home earnings, the unionization of supervisory workers and a "participation" royalty on each ton of coal mined.

In the other major labor negotiations, all appeared calm in the ranks of the CIO United Auto Workers in Detroit as conferences continued in the 112-day General Motors strike and parts of the union's contract with the Ford Motor Co. were possible changes.

UAW-CIO President R. J. Thomas and Vice President Walter P. Reuther did not comment on reports that the "Reuther-For-President" drive appeared gaining headway among UAW-CIO locals, but both declared they were "unanimous in all action now being taken to negotiate a strike settlement."

GM Unchanged

As the GM negotiations continued, with no report on yesterday's discussions, the union's national Ford council announced its objection to certain clauses dealing with productivity and other issues in the contract with Ford.

The contract, signed last month, is to go directly to the union membership for ratification or rejection, a union spokesman said, as the council has no formal power to decide acceptability of the pact, which provided for an 18-cent hourly wage increase.

In Chicago, a three-man presidential fact-finding board was to open hearings on the wages and rules dispute between two railroad operating unions and most of the nation's rail lines. A strike by the 293,000 members of the brotherhoods of railroad trainmen and locomotive engineers, which was set to start March 11, was postponed for at least 30 days after President Truman named the emergency board.

4,000 CAR OWNERS MUST BUY PLATES

To date 1,250 of those new red and white Ohio license plates have been issued to Salem district motorists and approximately 4,000 more are expected to be sold before April 1, according to the Columbus County Motor club office here.

Officials reminded persons applying for licenses that it is necessary that the owner of the car in question sign for the plates and present his certificate of title at the time of purchase.

Gen. Bradley Cites Need For More Workers In VA

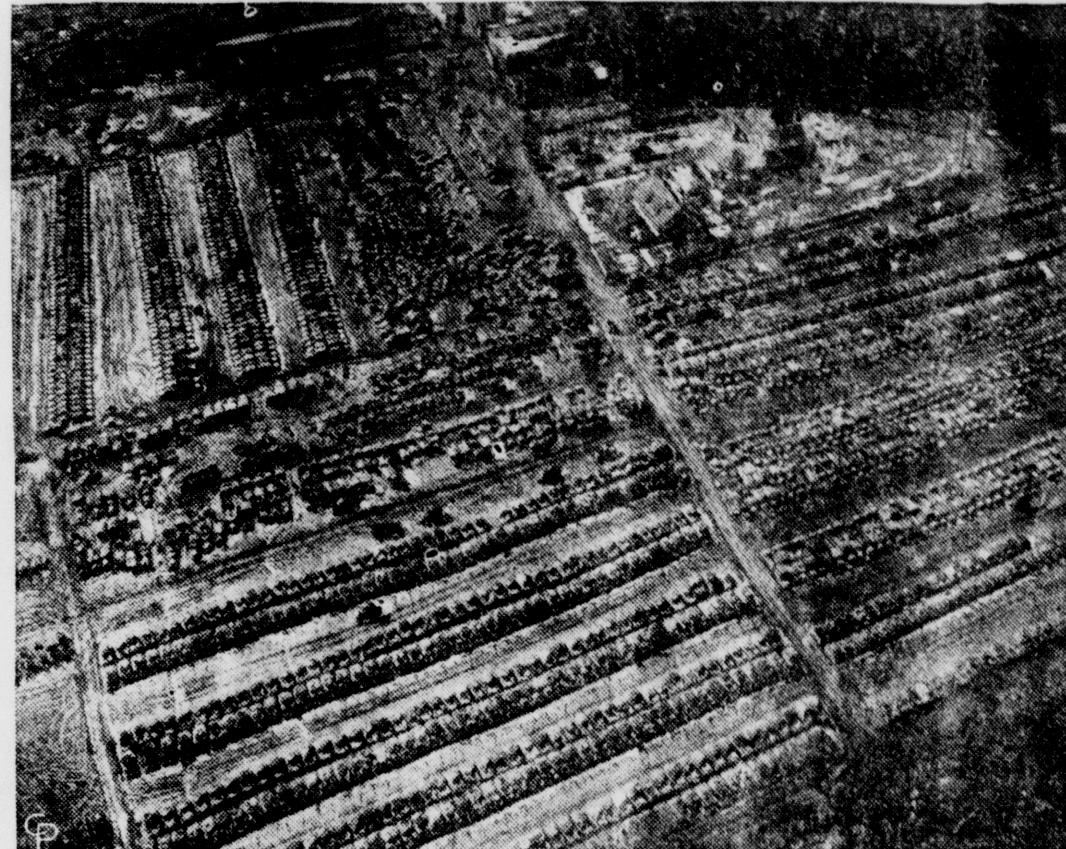

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Gen. Omar N. Bradley today asked congress to liberalize provisions for employment of retired officers so the Veterans Administration can fill its need for men trained in managing hospitals and offices.

Testifying before the house military committee, Bradley noted that those retired for age or length of service and entitled to $2,500 a year retirement pay could not be taken on by his agency. He advocated a pending bill which he said would permit them to accept.

U. S. SILENT THUNDER ON THE FIELDS OF GERMANY

THIS IS AN AERIAL VIEW of the greatest concentration of potential firepower assembled since pre-invasion days, when practically all of Britain was a combined airfield and artillery platform. Nearly a billion dollars worth of equipment is lined up on this 100-acre ordnance depot at Butzbach, north of Frankfurt, Germany. Now awaiting final disposition by the war department, these artillery pieces, tanks, half-tracks and self-propelled mounts, were originally destined to go to the Pacific, when the shooting ended in Europe.

Kesseling Admits Partial Guilt In Bombing Of Cities

(By DANIEL DELUCE)

NUERNBERG, Germany, March 12.—Field Marshal Albert Kesseling told the international military tribunal today that he was at least partly responsible for bombing of Warsaw, Rotterdam and Coventry.

The militaryist, who opposed American troops in Italy and France, testified for Herman Goerring, one of 22 Nazis on trial as war criminals.

"The bombs on Coventry landed perfectly," Kesseling said. "Sometimes a whole area must be considered as a target."

He said the British city was a "technical and industrial center" and that German planners called it a "Little Essen."

"I am very sorry as a soldier for 22 years if the attack on Rotterdam was not what it should have been," he testified, explaining he had heard the attack was made during armistice negotiations. "But if this was the case—and I never was able to find out—it should be counted as an accident of war."

Considered a Fortress

The marshal said he commanded the air attack on Warsaw. He described the Polish capital as a fortress and asserted that "everything possible was done to hit only military targets."

Paul Koerner, intimate of Hermann Goerring since 1926, told the tribunal the former reichsmarshal intervened against the Nazi party purge 12 years ago and that he created concentration camps only to "re-educate" enemies of the state.

Koerner was Goerring's secretary for many years and once was secretary of state for Prussia. He testified that when the purge was carried out in 1924 Goerring "went at once to the Fuehrer and told him innocent people were being killed and it must be stopped, and it was."

He said Goerring founded the concentration camps, but turned them over to Heinrich Himmler in 1934 on Hitler's orders. Goerring also attempted to stop a Jewish program in 1938, Koerner testified.

The tribunal granted Defendant Franz von Papen the right to submit to King Gustaf V. of Sweden questions relative to the former Nazi diplomat's claim that he repeatedly sought the monarch's intervention in the cause of European peace.

$7,000 IS RAISED IN MERCY DRIVE

Miss Hazel Linn, chapter secretary, today reported that $7,000—about one third of Salem's goal of $20,500—has been received in Salem's Red Cross fund campaign.

Team workers have covered approximately one third of the city and hope to contact all residents by the end of next week. The drive will continue until the end of the month, however, with a national goal of $1,000,000.

Pact to Outlaw Atom Bomb Can't Be Kept—Beightler

CANTON, March 12.—Agreements to outlaw the use of atomic bombs could not be kept, believes Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler.

The former commander of Ohio's 37th infantry division also told an audience last night that he had to concede for the first time that in the future the role of the ground soldier may be subordinate to the use of air power.

He spoke at the opening ceremonies at the Canton Jewish center, a building which was damaged last year by fire.

Salemite Mourns Surgeon Who Saved His Life

PITTSBURGH, March 12.—Stephen Belanek, 49, of Salem, O., was in Pittsburgh today, mourning the death of Dr. Gustave F. Berg, well-known surgeon, who put nine delicate stitches in Belanek's heart and saved his life 27 years ago.

Back in 1919, Belanek had been stabbed and Dr. Berg saved his life with the delicate operation, taking the minute stitches in split seconds between heart contractions.

Belanek never knew until he talked with the surgeon's widow yesterday that Dr. Berg had not expected him to live. The doctor died of a heart attack last Friday.

Election Year May Stave Off Demand For Rent Boosts

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Congress, allergic to election-year hot potatoes, juggled a request today for a mandatory 15 per cent hike in the general rent level of residential property throughout the nation.

The recommendation was presented to the house banking committee by representatives of rental property owners who argued that such a boost is essential in justice to the property owners.

They urged that provision for a compulsory increase be written into pending legislation to continue OPA price controls for another year after June 30.

A spot check of committee members indicated coolness to any such blanket increase, which obviously would affect a host of rent-paying voters.

In addition to the touchy election-year aspects of the proposal, it also involved the consideration that the increase would mean higher expenses for members of congress who rent homes in Washington, or in their own constituencies.

The rent increase was recommended by George M. Englar of Baltimore, president of the National Apartment Owners association, and Arthur D. Loppell, vice chairman of the Metropolitan Fair Rent committee of New York.

They contended OPA has conducted a propaganda campaign, arousing tenants against owners and inciting class warfare.

In addition to a general increase in rents, the representatives of property owners proposed:

1. Exemption of all newly created housing units from rent control.

2. Withdrawal of OPA federal residential rent control from states adopting their own residential rent control laws.

3. Recognition "that an owner is entitled to a reasonable return on the fair value of his property."

Another point is slated for 7 p. m. Monday in the city garage.

Car Fumes Kill Couple

TIFFIN, March 12.—Coroner William H. Benner today investigated the death of Clarence Long, 36, a factory worker, and Mrs. Mildred S. Wise, 30-year-old divorcee, whose bodies were found last night in a parked automobile near the Sandusky river.

The coroner reported results of a preliminary investigation led him to believe the couple died of carbon monoxide poisoning caused by fumes escaping from a defective exhaust pipe.

ISSUES MUST BE SETTLED, HE DECLARES

Foreign Relations Head Is Optimistic About Ties With Russia

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Senator Connally (D-Tex.) called today for a new Big Three meeting to discuss "in language clear and plain and if need be blunt," issues he said otherwise may blaze into world friction.

The chairman of the senate foreign relations committee sounded an optimistic note on future relations with Russia—provided they are based on such plain speaking.

But he told his colleagues in a prepared address that while she has the unchallenged right to maintain any form of government she wants, "these rights do not extend beyond her boundaries."

Connally called for maintenance by this country of "an adequate army, a superior navy and a superlative air force."

Cites Hope In UNO

Pinning his hopes on the United Nations, the Texas senator said that so long as Russia, Great Britain and the United States "remain loyal to the obligations of the charter and adjust differences as they arise, there will be peace."

Expressing the belief that the Soviet union does not want war, Connally said he believes mutual understanding and cooperation with Russia "are not insurable."

Connally's speech, which he said he discussed briefly in advance with Secretary of State Byrnes, carried on the newly-instituted policy of plain-speaking about Russo-American relations to which Byrnes and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) recently lent their voices.

It is time, the Texas said, for a new meeting between President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and Generalissimo Stalin. He said the big five foreign ministers ought to meet frequently, too.

Urging that all nations await the settlement in forthcoming peace treaties of boundaries, reparations and the status of governments, Connally expressed hope "that Russia will not permit her new found power to blind her to the necessity of recognizing and respecting the rights of other nations."

As for the United States, Connally said "let us say to Russia, we want your friendship. We want to cooperate. We share your comradeship in the bloody chapters of the most tremendous war in all times. We want your comradeship in the peace. Our countries have been traditional friends. Let that traditional friendship be cemented and strengthened and buttressed by mutual labors in behalf of world peace."

T. B. LEGISLATION OUTLINED FOR PTA

Miss Lillian Schgoeder, secretary of the Columbiana County Public Health League, discussed legislation for effective control of tuberculosis in Ohio when the Parent-Teacher association of the Junior High school met last evening at the Fourth Street school building.

Miss Schgoeder revealed material which will be proposed at the general assembly at Columbus in 1947, which includes plans for a 300-bed hospital for tubercular patients in conjunction with the Medical center at Ohio State university. Four 200-bed hospitals in other locations in the state will also be requested.

A subsidy of $2.50 per patient day, to be paid to the county commissioner for the care of tubercular victims in the county, district or hospital, would have to be approved by the Ohio Department of Health.

A regular appropriation of $50,000 per year for the Division of Tuberculosis of the Ohio Department of Health, also would be necessary, she said.

It will be the proposed duty of the county commissioner or other agency in charge of local relief funds, on the recommendation of local health authorities, to provide assistance from public funds for families of hospitalized family heads.

The P.T.A. group appointed the following nominating committee for next year's officers: John Hochadel, Mrs. Plummer Riddle and Mrs. J. J. Cope.

Lunch was served by the refreshment committee. Approximately 35 members attended.

The next meeting will be held April 8.

The Maginot Bomb

Aside from an occasional resolution on future use of the secret of releasing atomic energy, the almost forgotten efforts in Congress to establish a commission for the secret's control and the gags of would-be comedians, the atomic bomb is now being taken for granted.

This is possibly the most dangerous attitude that public opinion could drift into, under the circumstances. It is dangerous because it is founded on a conception of the atomic bomb that was formed last summer when Hiroshima and Nagasaki were blasted into ruins.

When World War I ended, France had a conception of future danger formed by its experience with massed armies fighting to a stalemate in trench warfare. That was not the only conception formed by World War I experiences.

Great Britain thought of submarine warfare as it was waged from 1914 to 1917. Military air power had to overcome the dead weight of experience with clumsy German bombers and light combat planes. Tanks, it was assumed, were going to be the same in the future as they had been in the past. When World War II began, a grim process of revelation began with it.

If the atomic bomb reappears it will reappear in a modern form. It has been disclosed, as a matter of fact, that the bombs dropped on Japan already were obsolete, though the public still was trying to comprehend them in their first form. The ultimate secret is not going to be how to release atomic energy—which seems to be the secret now—but what new things are being discovered about atomic energy from month to month and year to year.

The tendency to believe, because we want to believe, that the atomic bomb will not be subject to the same development that is applied to all means of warfare may give the United States a Maginot Line complex more fateful than the one that misled Frenchmen into forgetting that each new weapon begets a more powerful weapon.

Production First

The congressional wind is blowing in the direction of continuing OPA, but with strings attached. The House special committee on postwar economic policy and planning has recommended "reluctantly" that the Price Control act be continued for another year in modified form.

Discussion has brought out this general opinion; that sudden removal of all price controls in an attempt to stimulate production and stifle inflation might defeat those worthy purposes. The cure might be worse than the disease. Therefore, in moderate opinion, it would be better to taper-off price controls in ratio to the reappearance of production. In this way, especially if the tapering-off were mandatory—that is, prescribed by formula—the Price Control act would liquidate itself automatically.

The catch in this proposal is uncertainty about OPA's administrative attitude. Misgivings on this point were relieved slightly when higher ceiling prices on cotton textiles were authorized. This price relief was granted in order to stimulate production. That objective can be approached without losing ground in the battle against inflation if the slight price increase granted helps manufacturers to overcome the cotton goods shortage which has been driving up prices.

The same administrative attitude reflected in future decisions would convince manufacturers and businessmen that OPA was genuinely interested in their problems of producing and distributing goods. It would convince them that OPA was not the victim of an inflexible price ceiling monomania. Production is the first necessity. Prices are secondary. Prices will quit rising when the things consumers need and want again become freely available.

Davis Has An Idea

When President Truman pointed out in his Friday news conference that wage questions in the rubber and telephone industries had been settled on a straight collective bargaining basis, he appeared to be supporting an idea advanced frequently by William H. Davis, former chairman of War Labor Board.

In Chicago the same day, Mr. Davis repeated in an interview that the government should get out of industrial disputes. "Return to collective bargaining on the part of industry and labor and to a completely competitive industry is, in my mind," he said, "much more important than settlement of any temporary labor or price difficulties."

His experience as chairman of WLB gave Mr. Davis a chance to observe at close range the inevitable tendency of management and labor to pass the buck to government whenever government makes itself, the third party in bargaining. What he has witnessed since his retirement from government has deepened his conviction that collective bargaining itself is endangered by the intervention of government in any role other than mediator.

The danger was understood fully by Samuel Gompers, organized labor's wisest statesman. Gompers comprehended that government was organized by politicians and that politicians had only one interest in the labor movement—the possibility of its exploitation for political purposes. He warned that labor's ultimate welfare depended on a sound relationship with private enterprise, and that this relationship was not attainable in the United States under the auspices of politics.

Experience is a hard teacher, but if experience is revealing to both labor and management, as partners in private enterprise, that they have most to gain by preserving their independence of the mischievous hand of politics, the present turmoil may be worth the price. There are principles at stake vastly more important than the expediency of the changeable edicts of politics.

Member Reilly Dissenting

The dissent by Gerald R. Reilly to the National Labor Relations Board ruling that foremen may be considered as ordinary employees tells more of the story than the ruling.

Member Reilly made the same dissent to the same proposition in June, 1942. The NLRB ruled then that an independent union of supervisory employees in certain mines of United Coal and Coke Co. was an appropriate union for collective bargaining and ordered an election. Said Member Reilly: "A literal interpretation of the statute (National Labor Relations Act) would mean that even the president, vice president and treasurer of a corporation would have a right to bargain collectively, since they are also employees."

In May, 1943, NLRB reversed itself by ruling that certain classes of supervisory workers employed by Maryland Drydock Co. did not constitute an appropriate unit for bargaining and should not be considered as employees. In that case, Member Reilly was with the majority, which frankly admitted NLRB had been wrong in the 1942 election. The conflict between the two rulings has been a headache ever since, especially in view of the determination of John L. Lewis, who intends to organize coal mine foremen whether NLRB gives its consent or not and already has called one strike over the issue. No one in Washington ever has resisted Mr. Lewis successfully.

Under the current dispensation in Washington, organized labor always wins eventually, right or wrong. Member Reilly still has not changed his mind. One of his associates, John M. Houston, has changed his mind, however, and now is in a majority with Paul M. Herzog, the board chairman. Oh administrative law! What miracles are performed in thy name!

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, March 13.

WHILE there are indications of excellent progress and expansion in business, professional, cultural and private affiliations, with promise of much happiness, increase of funds and opportunity for enhancing good will, personal popularity and prestige, yet any sort of excess, over-enthusiasm, erratic ambitions, or other form of indulgence and bad judgment might undermine splendid prospects.

Be wise in the selection of associates, friends, expenditures and of the energies as well.

Those whose birthday it is have exceptional prospects for attaining a happy, prosperous and influential career, with expansive and productive fulfillment of cherished hopes and wishes. Personal, cultural and financial gratification and security seem assured.

Nevertheless, there are possibilities of all this felicity and good fortune being nullified or modified by over-zealous, extravagant, rash and showy or conceited course of action. All excesses with funds or personal energies, defects of character, might invite adversity separations or loss.

A child born on this day will have splendid opportunities for a productive and happy life, which it may negative by a tendency to extravagances, excesses, conceit, and show or over-acting.

Hope For Two Blood Diseases

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOME years ago, treatment for two serious disorders with radioactive phosphorus was tried. These two disorders are leukemia and polycythemia. In the first of these two conditions there is a great increase in the number of white cells in the blood. In the second condition it is the red cells that are overplentiful.

Doctor Shields Warren of Boston, Massachusetts, has studied 81 patients who were treated in this way, starting in January, 1940. Radioactive phosphorus is not easy to obtain but since the end of the war it is hoped that a more plentiful supply will be available.

Vein Injection

The preparation, dissolved in a mixed salt and glucose solution, was given by injection, into a vein. He feels that it is better to give it by injection than by mouth, since more of it is absorbed in this way.

Dr. Warren also used it in a number of patients with Hodgkin's disease, a condition affecting the lymph glands in the body, causing them to enlarge. He chose those cases for treatment which had responded to X-ray for a while but which later on were not improved by further X-ray treatments.

Taking the patients treated by Doctor Warren as a whole, it would appear that about one-third of them were benefited. No harm was done by the administration of the radioactive phosphorus in the doses employed. It was found that the doses used did not damage the formation of normal red blood cells.

Thus it was noted that in the cases of leukemia, while the white cells decreased in number, the red cells increased. In polycythemia, in which the red cells are increased above normal, the radioactive phosphorus caused a drop in the red cell count.

Blood cells are formed in the bone marrow. If there is normal bone marrow present, even heavy dosages of the radioactive phosphorus will do no permanent harm.

In one instance, a patient developed what is known as radiation sickness, which is a condition sometimes occurring following X-ray treatments but this cleared up when treatment was discontinued. One patient also complained of sickness to the stomach following treatment and the treatment was discontinued. The patients did not develop fever.

Practically all of the radioactive phosphorus given is excreted by the kidneys. Hence, it is not retained in the body.

In view of the fact that this type of treatment does no harm and appears to give benefits in such serious conditions as leukemia and polycythemia, it would appear in many instances to be worth trying in these diseases particularly when a more liberal supply is available.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. F. Can you give me a remedy for excessive perspiration of the feet?

Answer: Excessive perspiration of the feet sometimes is due to wearing the wrong kind of stockings and shoes. Rubber-soled shoes are objectionable in this respect.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Do YOU Own A "Scratching" Dog?

If you own and are fond of a dog that is continually scratching, digging, rubbing, and biting himself until his skin is raw and sore, don't just feel sorry for him. The dog can't help himself. But you may. He may be clean and free and just suffering from an intense itching irritation that has centered in the nerve endings of his skin. Do as thousands of pleased dog owners are doing. At any good drug store, pet or sport shop, get a 25c package of Rex-Jax Dog Powders, and give them once a week. Note the quick improvement. One owner writes: "My female setter on Sept. 29th did not have a handful of hair on her body—all scratched and bitten off. I gave her the powders as directed. By Nov. 10th she was all haired out. Learn what they will do for your dog. Make a 25c test. (Economy size box for only $1.00.)"

Boost Division Engineers
COLUMBUS, March 12 — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today authorized the state highway department to increase the salary of its 12 division engineers from $4,500 a year to $5,000.

He said salary increases to other employees had created a situation in which some subordinates were paid more than the engineers.

FAMILY QUARREL ENDS IN TRAGEDY

IT WAS A FAMILIAR family drama. The daughter wanted to choose her boy friends. The father protested the late hours she was keeping. Then the story took a grimly tragic turn. For here, according to officials, Evelyn Warnock, 19, Pittsburgh, Pa., is sobbing out to Lt. Peter Connors, of the Homicide Squad, the story of how she shot and killed her policeman father with his own pistol. She said he choked her. (International)

NEW 'WORLD WONDER' NEAR DEBUT

ABOUT TO JOIN THE BIG PARADE of breath-taking developments, such as bouncing radar waves off the moon, is the "giant eye"—the telescopic titan which is expected to be ready for use on April 8 at the Mt. Palomar Observatory, San Diego County, Cal. Dr. Max Mason (left), of the California Institute of Technology, and Dr. Robert A. Millikin, Nobel prize winner in physics, are shown above beside a scale model of the world's largest telescope which will enable man to break all records for penetrating distance with the eye. The complete instrument weighs 500 tons and is housed in a ten story dome. (International)

THE ABOVE DRAWING gives a general idea of the great power of the Palomar telescope. Through the giant 200-inch eye of the greatest telescope ever built, the moon will be literally in the world's front window. As the sketch indicates, such an instrument—if mounted on the moon—would bring the Empire State Building within 25 miles (1/2 international)

THIS IS THE 200-INCH MIRROR now in the process of being installed in the world's largest telescope on Mt. Palomar, Cal. Made at Corning, N. Y., it has had many adventures. A special type of car was built to carry it to California and, in some places, special rail lines were laid to insure its safe transport. It took years to grind and polish and its size can be gathered by comparison with the man at left. (International)

Invents "Eye"

THE ABILITY to see objects in the dark up to distances of 10 to 15 miles has been made possible through the invention of the Cy project laboratory at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. The discovery, called super-conducting bolometer, was discovered over a period of four years by a chemical group headed by Dr. H. Andrews, above. It is an infra-red eye which permits the observer to see without his own position being detected. The bolometer has a peace-time utility that ranges from a fire alarm to a weapon against cancer. Nice Boys, Those Nazis

Nazi ingenuity in devising dirty tricks was again disclosed when the German army belt-buckle gun, pictured above, was turned in to Chicago police. At slight pressure of the two cover releases, the front drops down, and the two-inch, twin barrels, actuated by a spring, swing into position, pointing at the intended victim. Twin triggers enable barrels to be fired separately or in unison. Gun fires bullets approximating .38 caliber.

Salem-Akron North Outcome A Toss-up; Both Seem Equal

Salem isn't going to have an easy time Friday night carrying the local colors into the final stages of the Ohio Class A basketball race against Akron North, but it's safe to say that Akron has just as much to worry about as the Quakers.

From all indications—considering records, height, speed, offense and defense—the contest at 9 p. m. Friday at Youngstown South's fieldhouse will be about an even affair.

The Vikings have won the Ohio title twice and made serious bids for it on numerous other occasions. One that will remain foremost in Salem's memories was in 1938, when Coach Herb Brown's Salem team bumped North from the district tournament when North was picked as the most likely winner.

It has been some time since Salem and Akron teams have clashed in tournament play but Akron well remembers the Quaker outfalls which were a problem when the district tournament was held in the Goodyear gym there.

In 1937 Salem went to Columbus after eliminating Akron West's Cowboys in the district finals—another stunning upset. The following year Quakertown pulled the North upset. Three games left their mark with Akron.

North comes into the regional tournament with the second best over-all record, having won 12 and lost six during the regular season and in three tournament games. Warren is best of the field with a 21-5 mark.

The Vikings are now seeking their fifth straight win as compared to Salem's quest for its 11th in a row. Both teams have shown improvement all year long.

Akron is billed by Akron Beacon-Journal sports writers as a hot and cold club but it has shown up more consistently in the past few games.

According to Akron experts, the Vikings are rangy, but will not equal Salem in height, especially with their starting five.

They employ a light zone defense. They employ a light zone defense. They employ a light zone defense.

forward, is the team's leading scorer with 220 points in 18 games. At the other forward is Verne Petri, also five eleven, who is considered the nearest shot from side-court in the group.

At center, Coach White uses Joe Vatalaro, six three, who doesn't measure up to Bob Payer in either stature or scoring ability.

At the guards White employs the major portion of his ranginess. Carmine Ciccarelli, six one, and Bob Sadowski, six three, are the back court men and are reputed to be defensive stalwarts.

Reserves, reportedly in a class with the starters, are Sol Crano, five foot nine, and Alvin Yahner, six three, both guards; and Al Vainola, six one, who fills in at center part of the time.

It's highly probable that Coach White may shift his usual starting lineup to include some of his lankier men to cope with Salem's height. If he does he can theoretically overcome all Salem's advantage in that department with the exception of Payer.

Only substitute Bob Shank, a six five land and a Sophomore, can approach Payer's reach, and he isn't experienced in varsity play.

North has lost this year to six teams: Akron St. Vincent's (35-29), Barberton (29-27), Akron Central (37-35), Akron East (33-28), Akron Bucnel (42-41) and Akron South. City champions (45-38).

Victories have been posted over: Kent Roosevelt (42-27), Cuyahoga Falls (54-33), Youngstown East (51-32), Akron Garfield (37-35), Massillon (49-40), Lakewood (49-27), Akron Hower (49-14), Akron West (51-36), Akron Kenners (44-23), Akron West (51-42), Akron Bucnel (50-38) and Ravenna (41-34). The latter three were in tournament play.

Salem and North have met three mutual foes this year. In all cases the comparison gave North the edge, but qualifications are in order.

Salem defeated Kent Roosevelt 34-33 in an overtime. North took them early in the year—before Kent's improvement came about—42-27. Ravenna lost out to Salem, long before Quakertown was playing top-notch ball, in the first game of the year on the Raven floor, 30-28. North took Ravenna on neutral floor in tournament play, 41-34, to win their way to Youngstown.

The other foe is Youngstown East, which is said to have played its best game of the year in losing to Salem, 46-42, in the Youngstown tournament. North defeated this hapless Youngstowners very early in the season, 51-32.

Salem is a completely different ball club from the time it met Ravenna and Kent Roosevelt. Equally as true is the fact that both of those teams have shown improvement since Salem met them and won.

Tournament competition, however, itself bars a regular season comparison and as all the bars are down in tournament play, Salem's slight height advantage—regardless of whom White inserts into the fray—and the Quakers' disturbing faculty of playing only as good as they are forced to, makes the Friday outcome a toss-up.

Warren, pre-regional favorite at the Toledo candidate for this region, meets Lakewood in the 6 o'clock game.

Bill Newell, Jim Harris Named A. P. All-Ohio

Clipper, Potter Chosen On Harrison's Mythical Class A and B Quintets

By HAROLD HARRISON, Ohio A. P. Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, March 12—Ten brilliant performers—eight Seniors, one Junior and one Sophomore averaging an inch over six feet in height—were named today as Ohio's stars of stars—members of the Associated Press 1946 All-State High School basketball teams in Class "A" and Class "B."

They were chosen from nominations sent in by several hundred coaches and sports writers. They were sifted out from a group of 399 different players—167 in Class "A" and 193 in Class "B"—which were mentioned for the honors.

Named to the Class "A" team are Eugene Melzer of Cincinnati Walnut Hills and Dick Burton of Mansfield at forwards; Mike Medick of Cleveland Benedictine at center, and Paul Lansaw of Middletown and James Harris of East Liverpool at guards.

The Class "B" team is Robert Hirsch of Northridge and Robert Slayman of Beach City at forwards; Glenn Hursay of Glenford at center, and William Newell of Columbiana and August Trenkamp of Ottoville at guards.

The selections were based on performances prior to tournament play and every effort was made to keep those selected at the positions at which they played regularly.

The only two deviations were in Class "A" and those were made only after the coaches reported the boy was capable of filling either of two positions.

Middletown's Lansaw was placed at guard although he has played center this year. He was a guard in previous years, however. Eli Joyce of Akron South was recommended for either center or forward and he was given a forward spot on the second team.

There was such a wealth of center material available in Class "A" it might have been possible to name anywhere from three to five centers on that squad but such an outfit would not constitute a balanced team in the strict sense.

The standout choices in Class "A" were Lansaw and Harris. The coaches and sports writers virtually ran out of superlatives in describing the play of those two lads. Lansaw moved up to the first team from a 1945 second string berth. Harris scored 322 points during the season and Lansaw 178 but Lansaw was playing on a team that was almost perfectly balanced for scoring.

The most difficult task of all was selecting center and it almost was a toss of the coin choice between Medick and Neil Johnston of Chillicothe. Both were big and rugged. Both pack tremendous scoring power but the reports seemed to give Medick a hairline edge. The third team forward, Dick Schnitker of Sandusky and he, in turn, barely nosed out Martin Perry's Ralph Short.

The two first team forwards scored almost 500 points between them during the season and with Melzer, at six-foot, four-inches, teaming with six-foot five-inch Medick the team would have outstanding strength under and off the backboards.

Henry Navarro of Toledo Macomber was paired with Joyce on the second team and the third team spots went to Don Sweet of Norwalk and Don Baker of Dover. Canton's two Pete's—Cox of Lehigh and Spera of McKinley—were selected as the second team guards and on the third team it was All-State footballer Cliff Wilke of Hamilton Catholic and Don Smith of Newark.

Melzer is the only Junior on the first team.

The Class "B" first team is a bit unusual in that it includes a Sophomore—Glenford's great Glenn Hursay at center. Although he's only 15 years old, Hursay was rated as one of the best. He scored 485 points during the season.

Class "B" also was well stocked with brilliant centers and Hursay was followed closely by South Charleston's Jim Hardman and Gibsonburg's Len Shull.

Bob Hirsch, one of the brother combination that led Northridge to the Class "B" state title last year and an undefeated record this season, was a runaway choice for a first team forward position. Slayman is a four-year veteran at Beach City and was highly regarded throughout his area of the state.

L. D. Allen of Franklin, another youthful Sophomore, and Eugene Proctor of Akron Ellet took the second team forward positions and on the third squad are Harold Roth of Sandusky St. Mary and

Bowling Green to Face Rhode Island in Meet

NEW YORK, March 12—Rhode Island State, winner of 18 games in 2 starts, will play Bowling Green of Ohio, with a 27-4 record, in the first game of the 1946 National Invitational basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

St. Johns of Brooklyn (7-15) meets West Virginia (22-2) in the second game that night.

Saturday's pairings send Kentucky, seeded No. 1 with 25 victories and only two defeats, against Arizona, border conference king, in the first game and Syracuse (23-3) opposes Muehlenberg (21-2) in the second. Arizona has won 25 and lost four.

"TOAR" WINS!

Frank Julian, Salem Pro Wrestler, Triumphs In Thrilling Maich

Frank "Toar" Julian, Salem pro wrestler, whipped Bob Kawa, 228-pound Detroit grappler, in a one-fall affair at the Rochester, N. Y., arena in a crowd pleasing match last week.

Julian, fighting as Frank Marconi, downed Kawa in a rough go after 36 minutes of wrestling which had the crowd wild.

During the match Julian suffered a cut above the left eye and Kawa split his right hand. Kawa protested the decision and a near-riot followed the match.

Julian, who sponsored a professional wrestling show here two months ago, plans another show—comprised of all heavy-weights—at the Memorial building in the next month.

CANTON YALES TOP LEGION IN INITIAL ROUND OF TOURNEY

Battle Two Extra Frames Before Edging Vets By One Point

Surging from behind to knot the score at 34-34 at the end of the regulation game, the Salem American Legion extended the Canton Yale Club to the limit last night in the opening round of the annual Alliance cage tournament before bowing in two overtime periods, 45-44.

It was the third meeting of the campaign between the two clubs and the third time in which the Canton five emerged victorious.

The locals fell behind at the outset of the contest as the Yales presented a well-balanced scoring attack which sent them in front, 10-7, after one period of play.

The Yales continued to add to their lead in the second and third stanzas, holding a 27-22 edge as the final quarter got under way.

Then with Dick Greene, Bill Schneider and Del Shaffer setting the pace, the vets roared into a 32-27 lead midway through the final only to see their rivals come back with an identical spree to tie up the game.

Each team collected five markers in the first overtime session which ended in a 39-39 deadlock. Garner of the Yales then showed the way as the Canton five outscored the locals by a 6-5 margin in the second extra period to oust them from the tourney.

OBITUARY

MRS. OLIVE PETERSON
Mrs. Olive Peterson, 69, died at 11 a. m. today at her home on Washington ave. following a cerebral hemorrhage. She had been ill for the past five years.
Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

JOHN J. LINDSMITH
LISBON, March 12—John Jacob Lindsmith, 76, life-long resident of this vicinity and a retired farmer, died at 12:25 a. m. today at his home, 224 W. Washington st., after a lingering illness.
He was born in Columbiana, May 26, 1872, the son of Henry B. and Anna Mary Lindsmith.
He was a member and an elder in the Presbyterian church and was a charter member of the Lisbon grange.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Tolson Lindsmith; a son, Earl L. Lindsmith of Houston, Texas; a step-son, Ralph Tolson of Lisbon; a sister Miss Jennie Lindsmith of Lisbon and two grandchildren.
Funeral service will be held at the Eells funeral home at 2 p. m. Thursday in charge of Rev. Paul T. Gerard. Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday afternoon or evening.

MRS. WALTER J. FEYOCK
LEETONIA, March 12—Mrs. Bridget Feyock, 75, died Sunday morning at her home, 512 Cherry fork ave., following an extended illness caused by a fractured hip.
Born May 31, 1870, at Allegheny, Pa., a daughter of Edward and Sabina Barrett, she spent the past 60 years in Leetonia. She was married 48 years ago to Walter J. Feyock.

Surviving are her husband; one son, James, of Youngstown; one daughter, Mrs. Bartley Conroy, Newark, N. J.; and six grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday at St. Patrick's Catholic church, in charge of Rev. Fr. W. M. Maund. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Friends may call from 7 to 9 tonight at the Woods funeral home.

Claims Hitler Changed After Conquest of France

Nuernberg, March 12—Adolf Hitler became "abnormal" after his 1940 conquest of France, Field Marshal Gen. Erhard Milch, chief of the Luftwaffe, testified before the international military tribunal today.

"Hitler was not the same. There was some change," Milch said under cross examination by U. S. Prosecutor Robert H. Jackson. Asked if he told anyone else of his suspicion concerning the Fuehrer's mentality, Milch replied: "If I had I would have been shot immediately."

Milch said the Luftwaffe was caught short at the outbreak of the war in 1939 because Hermann Goering, his immediate superior, had ordered in 1937 that the building of four-engined night bombers be discontinued.

Jap Colonel To Hang

MANILA, March 12—Col. Akira Nagahama, one-time chief of Gen. Yamashita's thought police in the Philippines, was sentenced today to death by hanging by a U. S. military commission which convicted him on 11 charges of atrocities committed by his men.

RUSSIANS HERE FOR MONEY PARLEY

ABOUT TO ENTER THEIR HOTEL following their arrival in Savannah, Ga., are three delegates from Russia who will attend sessions of the international monetary conference. The appearance of (l. to r.) Fedor Bystryov, Antonia Bodrova, and G. L. Dolotov was a complete surprise because Russia had ignored for months an invitation to the conference of thirty-five countries.

Strike Picture At A Glance

(By Associated Press)

Continuing labor disputes keep idle approximately 757,000.

Major developments:

COAL—John L. Lewis, president of AFL United Mine Workers, meets with union policy committee for last review of demands to be presented to bituminous coal operators in contract negotiations; more pay, shorter work week, unionization of supervisory workers and participation royalty on each ton of coal mined believed among demands.

AUTOMOTIVE—CIO United Auto Workers union leaders continue conferences in 112-day General Motors strike, declare their unity to reach settlement; union's national Ford council objects to certain clauses in recently approved contract with Ford Motor Co.

RAILROADS—Presidential fact-finding board opens hearings on wages and rules dispute between two operating brotherhoods and most of the nation's rail lines, as strike threat of 293,000 members postponed for at least 30 days.

Attend Safety Meeting

LISBON, March 12—Sheriff George Hayes and Deputy John Develle yesterday attended a safety meeting of county police officers from four counties, at which Atty General Hugh Jenkins spoke.

Representatives from Columbiana, Trumbull, Mahoning and Ashland counties were present.

Plans Nylon Shower

SPRINGFIELD, March 12—Cleveland will be treated to a shower of more than 15 pairs of nylon hosiery next Sunday, March 17, Albert Edward Payne, candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, reports. He admits it is a publicity stunt.

Ex-Councilman Dies

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 12—Funeral service will be held tomorrow, for St. Proctor Ankrim, 76, a retired restaurateur and a former city councilman.

Columbiana Firm Under New Board

COLUMBIANA, March 12—Operating continuously 24 hours a day with three shifts and employing 140 under new management, the Diamond Welding & Manufacturing Co. is turning out daily in its recently enlarged plant at the western edge of town about 900 units of its "all-weather" screen and storm sash, for which it has a long-term contract with the F. C. Russell Co. of Cleveland.

The majority stock interests of the company have been acquired in their entirety from C. R. Smith of the Diamond Steel Construction Co. of Youngstown by Dora M. Moloney of Youngstown, and G. C. Rauch and Howard Bye of Lisbon.

The new board of directors and officers are: President and general manager, Paul S. Moloney; vice presidents, Howard Bye and Dora M. Moloney; treasurer, G. C. Rauch; secretary, Lynn Riddle.

The company's product is marketed under the trade-marked name of "Rusco" and has a nationwide distribution.

W.C.T.U. Hits Provisions Of President's Wheat Ban

COLUMBUS, March 12—The recent presidential ban on use of wheat for white bread and restrictions on grain for beverage alcohol "discriminated" against the nation's millers in favor of the liquor industry, Miss Mary B. Ervin, president of the Ohio Woman's Christian Temperance union, asserted today.

Actress Joan Crawford Reveals Divorce Plans

LOS ANGELES, March 12—Actress Joan Crawford, winner of the Motion Picture academy award for the best feminine portrayal in pictures during 1945, has prepared to sue her estranged husband for divorce, her attorney, Neil S. McCarthy, announces.

Vet. Still Abroad, Elected

ALLIANCE, March 12—Farmers in nearby Lexington township made history today when, in electing the 1946 officers for their annual institute, they chose a GI now in Switzerland, as their new president.

Chosen was Melvin Snodde, who is attending a GI sponsored school in Switzerland, but is expected to return home in June.
